Press Release Pelham Board of Selectmen June 11, 2014

National Grid will be in Pelham this week, beginning on Friday June 12 until Friday June 19 canvassing neighborhoods. These National Grid contractors will be going door to door in neighborhoods closest to the existing transmission Right of Way to reach out to residents about the Merrimack Valley Reliability Project. They are conducting outreach in various towns to ensure residents are kept up to date and are made aware about the proposed project.

The canvassing program is simply outreach and education on the proposed project and there is no soliciting or sales of any kind. It's a chance for us to explain the project to residents, and answer questions.

National Grid canvassers will be wearing clearly marked National Grid Greater Boston and New Hampshire Solution uniform shirts and will identify themselves as National Grid representatives. They will be leaving door hangers at the doors for residents who are not at home. All of the canvassers for this project have been trained extensively and have undergone and passed full National Grid background checks.

Any questions can be directed to the Selectmen's office @ 508-3074.
